Brutal Prize Fight.

CONTEST BETWEEN A NEW YORK AND A PHILADELPHIA
BRUISER—TWENTY-NINE ROUNDS FOUGHT.

(From the Brooklyn Eagle, Dec. 2.)
A most brutal prize light took place at daybreak this morning, a short diseasee book of Calvary Cemetery.
The principals—Mike Borey and Fd. Holloway—have been in training for the past two weeks, and were in pretty good condition for the fight.

The match was made up at a well known sperting house up town in New York, and the principals, seconds and about sevenny tive or a hundred spectators crossed Boston, Dec. 2, 1861.

The following is an extract from a letter from Captain Bowman, of the Fifteenth Massachussetts regiment, under date of Richmond, November 27:-

date of Richmond, November 27:—

We are all, seven of us, confined in one cell, size eleven by seventeen feet. Our mess is made up of Cole. Coggswett and Wood, of New Yerk; Colonel Lee and Major Revers, of the Massachussetts Twentieth; Captain Keffer, of Philadel his; and Captain Pockwood and myself of the Fifteenth Massachussetts regiment. We were transferred from the tobacce warehouse, where we had been confined since the batton at Leeching, a fortnight age. Standing as we do—for the privateers in New York—we are treated the same as persons charged with the crime. What will be the result of all this I do not know. I trust that all will be weel, If we o'clock this morning, and proceeded quietly to the ground selected.

The prediminaries, such as the fixing of the ring, the choosing of bottle holders, timekeeper, &c., were soon settled, and the parties, both confident of victory, were brought in the ring. They were light weights, and about nin-teen or twenty pears old. Holloway, on coming into the ring, waiked up to his opponent and offered to bethin flye dollars that he would win the fight. Dorey replied that he had no money. They then shook hands and the fight commenced. The betting at tirst was even, but after a few rounds had be n fought, the odds were in favor of Borey, mon whom the blows appeared to have little or no effect. From the first to the twelfth round beth fought very sly, doing more spar ing than fighting. Holloway by the time hegan to show the effect of Forcy's "mawlies," as he had received a bad cut upon the mouth and another upon the ness, from which the blood trickled down upon his breast.

Thickenth round,—Both came to the scratch upon the Barshal Murray was also instructed by the Department to cause a police examination to be made of Mr. Converse's baggage, in order that no correspondence or other Improper papers should be condistinct. The friends of Holloway here cried "foul, stoot," claiming that berey had struck him while he was on his knee.

Fourteenth round.—Holloway came up briskly, and following larey over to his corner, struck out twice with his lot, which took effect on the neck of borrey. They then closed and both full to geth r.

Fif centh round.—The seconds of both parties in this round urged them on, and they soon closed, when borry, being the strongest, threw Holloway and foll upon him. From this to the ninetecnth round Holloway was pretty badiy punished, receiving seme severe cuts upon his right check. Dorry, however, by an to grow weak, and came up which and somewhat frightened.

The net yecond round.—After sparring a short time they closched, and both went down together.

The net yeldrid round.—Holloway came up and gave Dorcy an upper cut that rather staggered him. He atternated to get away, but Dorcy followed him up and got in another light one on the nose.

The net fourth round.—In this round there was very hard faithing. They went at the work in good carnest, giving and taking heavy blows both upon the face and body. Dorcy received a severe unigrout on the chin, and Holloway got a very bad cut upon the mouth, which made his lips look very unatural. (Great cheering on both sides.) of the Provisional Government—Ordinances Passed by the Body—Martle Nash Taylor Elected Governor—Pro-clamation to the People of North Carolina, dc.

As you are already aware, the provisional State govern-ment for the State of North Carolina, which has been in contemplation for some months past, was formally called ogether for business on the 18th of November inst., when there was a full representation by delegates and proxies. A number of very important ordinances were unanimously adopted by the Convention; among others, one which set forth "that the ordinance of the Convenproclaiming the secession of this Commonwealth from the federal Union, such secession being legally impossi-ble, is of no force or effect; and said ordinance, together with all other ordinances and acts of said Convention, or of the General Assembly, made and done in pursuance of the treasonable purposes of the conspirators against the Union, is hereby declared null and void."

Convention was adjourned, subject to be reasembled on the call of the President. The following are the proclamations of the new Gover-

The following are the proclamations of the new Governor to the people of North Carolina—

PROCLAMATION BY TATE GOVERNOR.

To THE PROTES OF NORTH CAROLINA:—
On Monday, the 18th of November, 1861, a provisional or temporary government for this Commonwealth was instituted at Hatteras, Hyde county, by a convention of the people, in which mere than half the counties of the State were represented by delegates and anthorized proxies. Ordinances were adopted by the Convention declaring vacant at State offices the incumbents whereof have disqualified themselves to hold them by violating their official oaths to support the constitution of the United States, which North Carolina has solemuly accepted as the supreme law of the land; pronouncing void and of no effect the ordinance of soccassion from the federal Union, passed by the convention assembled at Raleigh, May 9, 1881; continuing in full force the constitution and laws of the State, as a nature of the third States; appointing a provisional Governor, and empowering him to file such official vacancies and to do such neft as in his judgment might be required for the safety and good order of the State.

We have attempted no revolutionary innovations; we have hade no change in the organic law, or sought to overthrow or disturb any of the institution of the State, in repedicing and resisting the wanton usurpation which has flagrantly defied the will and low crashes the liberites of the people of this Commonwealth, we act in the pursuance of a sacred duty to North Carolina, and to that great republic, our common country, which invested them with the high dignity of American etilizenship. We fulfil, morsover, an imperative chigglion to foed, to civilization, to freedom and to humanity. We obey that cardinal maxim of sounts givernment which affirms that the popular welfare is tas highest law. The good and loyal men of North Carolina have been for months past without any domestic government which affirms that the popular whelms the prove of man and a craven recantation of the holy creed of freedom.

1 therefore call upon all the good people of this Commonwealth to reterm to their allegiance to the United States, and to raily around the standard of State loyalty, which we have re-creeted and placed side by side with the glorious flag of the republic. I adjure you as North Carolinians, mindful of the inspiring tradition of your history, and keesing in view yor tree interests and welfare as a people, to rise and assert your independence of the wicked tyrants who are seeking to enslave you. Remember the men of Mecklenburg and the martyrs of Alaminose.—d. a., but of undying memory—and endeavor to repeat their valor and their particitian
